

Val, the Sundrop Vicuña

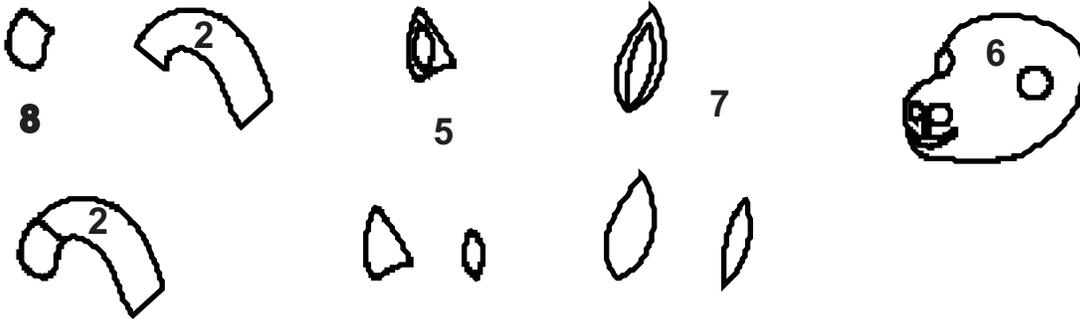

6" block or larger

General Guidelines: Pre-wash fabrics, especially if using fusible web applique methods. Cut background fabric 1-2" larger than needed. When tracing on the back side of fabrics, reverse the images if you want the objects to face the direction pictured. Using your preferred method, appliqué pieces in numerical order, then in alphabetical order (if applicable). Some letters (like i, l and o) are not used to label pieces because they look too much like numerals. Paint or embroider small details like facial features. Press then trim block to size needed. If embellishing with 3-dimensional objects like buttons, sequins, lace, etc., add them after project has been quilted. Items to be used by children under age 3 should not have small 3-dimensional objects.

Sundrop Vicuña

Patterns for the tail and ears have been broken apart for those who enlarge the pattern and for those who like to tilt body parts to get variations when making multiple animals so they don't all look exactly alike. A one-piece version of the head appears below. For blocks 6" and smaller, it's easiest to use the full head and tail, then paint, color or embroider the details.
